

A Fixed-length feature vector for a part, obtained through statistics

Spatial division of the image data into fixed number of parts as shown

